The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was

3,728 copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

"I feel like a sponge," declares Rockefeller, "because I have absorbed so many blessings." At the same time the blessings are yelping for aid.

Things will not move along in their proper channels until the world's championship in base ball is settled. Meanwhile eyes are turned toward Philadelphia and New York.

Charles E. Hughes of New York is not anxious to butt his head against a political stone wall; so he declines the honor thrust upon him by the Republican city convention.

If Concord, N. H., is pleased over the prospect of selling half a million dollars' worth of granite, Barre certainly ought to be pleased with an amount largely in excess of that.

Mayor Burke as a possible Democratic candidate for governor apparently amuses some Burlington parties. Yet were Burlington electing the governor, Burke would undoubtedly be the executive chosen.

SALOONS AND INTOXICATION AR- RESTS.

A bulletin on municipal statistics, recently published by the census bureau, brings out some interesting comparisons regarding arrests for intoxication. Boston and Baltimore compared show that there were 27,792 arrests for intoxication in Boston in 1903, while there were 3, 573 in the Maryland city, and that in spite of the fact that in Baltimore there were 2,230 retail liquor saloons to 783 in the Massachusetts city. Pittsburg and Cincinnati statistics bring out a variation even more striking. Pittsburg, with 571 saloons, had 17,291 arrests for inebriation; Cincinnati, with three times the number of grogeries, had less than one-eighth the number of arrests. When the East and the West are compared, Hartford, Conn., and Seattle, Wash., are taken. The Western city had 240 saloons and 576 arrests; the Connecticut city had 163 saloons and 3,064 cases therefrom. An interesting comparison is between Portland, Me., and Yonker, N. Y. The former does not allow the sale of liquor by license, and there were 2,186 persons gathered in for drinking overmuch; whereas, in Yonkers, which permits the sale of liquor and has 187 retail liquor stores, there were only 454 arrests. This variableness discloses an unreliability for record, and causes the Boston Transcript to remark that the figures are governed largely by local conditions, the popular sentiment, or the activity of the police. For instance, the large number of cases in Boston was undoubtedly due to the strict enforcement of the drunk regulations.

In the statistics for the punishment for intoxication, The Transcript finds in eighteen states there are no specific laws for the punishment of intoxicated people and common drunkards may be found. The matter is covered by local ordinances. The penalty for drunkenness in two states is imprisonment without fine. In four commonwealths the punishment is a fine, and the laws make no allusion to imprisonment. Three states, without fixing the amount of fine or imprisonment, require security for good behavior, and if the convicted offender fails to provide such security he may be committed to the jail or workhouse. In fifteen states the alternative penalty of either fine or imprisonment is established. The fines range all the way from a minimum of fifty cents to a maximum of one hundred dollars.

 The imprisonment, showing a similarly large variation between extremes, runs from two days to five years.

What is luck? It's preparedness—that is, always being ready to take advantage of opportunities. It'll be your lucky day if you take advantage of the opportunity offered at our Fall opening. Suits at $7.50 to $25.00, ready to wear.
 Suits at $15.00 to $40.00, made to measure.

MARSHFIELD.

Bert M. Shepard and friends from Montpelier were in town Monday in an automobile, on a hunting trip.

Carpenters are putting the finishing touches on the McCrellis block, which will soon be ready for occupancy.

The report that C. C. Bent's hired man, Fred Hammel, was turned off, was a mistake. He was unable to run the thing, so left.

Herbert Ellis found one of his best two-year-old heifers caught under the root of a tree by the foot Sunday, and to all appearances the creature had been there two or three days. She was in terrible shape, and Mr. Ellis was obliged to shoot her.

Prof. and Mrs. E. A. Hamilton of Montpelier seminary were guests of Mrs.
 D. K. Lucas Sunday.

Dean W. Edson of Montpelier was in town Sunday by "auto-bike."

Mrs. L. P. Slack and little daughter of St. Johnsbury are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Mears.
 Lee Townsend is foreman on laying the cement floor in the creamery. Work was begun Monday.

The infant child of Harry Boyce has been very ill, but it better at this writing.

Mrs. Bancroft of Barre is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Townsend, indefinitely.

Maudie Townsend, who is attending the Spaulding school in Barre, was at home over Sunday. Miss Maudie boards with her aunt, Mrs. Nellie Haskins.

The Congregationalist ladies will give a harvest supper in connection with the Wilder concert Wednesday evening.

The pews of the M. E. church were removed from the audience room to the vestry Tuesday and E. W. Merrell began painting the ceiling forthwith.

Dr. H. S. Carver's piazza is nearly completed, and E. W. Merrell has painted over the same once. This is by far the most modern structure of its kind in this part of the country. Mr. Duke certainly did credit to himself in the carpenter work.

Deputy Sheriff Lawson of Montpelier was in town Saturday and summoned witnesses in the Gilman case, which came off Monday. Mr. Gilman pleaded guilty to three offenses, illegal liquor selling, and was fined $400 and costs in each.

W. H. H. Smith is able to walk out of doors, after a long illness.

Ellery, the oldest son of Alp Lynd, shipped from a ledge Sunday and fell backward, forcing his left arm into the mud in such a manner as to break one bone of the fore arm. Dr. H. S. Carver reduced the fracture at once and the lad is doing well.

Mrs. Waitie Ormsbee Rogers of Albany, Vt., is the proud mother of a fine baby boy, born October 4th.

D. R. Tibbets is placing underpinning under F. W. Cole's barn.

Bills are out announcing the opening of a new dry goods store in Cabot by Henry Heyman of Burlington, who has run a clothing cart through this part of the country for several years.

On account of repairs being made in the Methodist church, services will be held in the vestry of the church next Sunday.

John L. Severance, one of the town's most illustrious citizens, is shingling a building for D. K. Lucas. Mr. Severance is of the advanced age of 80 years, and although he has been at death's door by illness and accident many times, he is an example for many of our younger men.

Master Frederick Shepard was with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E.
 Shepard, over Sunday.

Notice the lettering and lattice work on the Adams block, bearing the date "1905" and the word "Adams."

T. R. Barton is in Boston this week on business.

The needed repairs were put in the saw mill Monday, and work there will be commenced at once.

Mrs. Henry Egglefield, who has been very ill for two months or more, went to Hanover hospital Monday, to be operated on for cancer. She was accompanied by her niece, Miss Mabel Wood, a trained nurse, from Lisbon, N. H.

Miss Susie Atkins of Cabot is in town today, soliciting for aluminum cooking utensils and kitchen ware.

C. C. Bent has recently put a steel ceiling in his living room. L. F. Fortney of Plainfield did the work.

Word was received from Leslie C.
 Tucker, written at Los Angeles one week ago, saying that he stopped a day and a night at the following places on his trip out: Chicago, Denver, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, where he visited Selden Smith, his mother and Miss Pausy, and he was expecting to reach Pasadena last Friday. He is well and enjoying the trip.

ORANGE.

Mrs. B. F. Town and Mrs. Luther Guild of Coventry are visiting in town.

The Ladies of the Congregational church will hold a sale at the town hall Oct. 17 and 18, at which there will be a large quantity of useful and valuable articles at very low prices. Refreshments will be served. Everybody is invited, and a good time is assured.

Chas. Haywood has moved into G. E.
 Nelson's house.

Frank Aiken has moved into the house recently purchased of Geo. Cline.

Geo. Cline has purchased the Frank Flanders place and moved there.

Chas. Jewell and family have visited in town the past week.

Mrs. E. G. Peake is visiting friends in Topsham this week.

Miss Etta Norton, the milliner, is in town for a few days.

Auction Sale!

WEDNESDAY,
 OCTOBER 18th, 1905.

On the above date I will sell at public auction all my real and personal property, consisting of

MY HOME FARM

of 120 acres, the hay and other crops thereon, twelve cows, numerous young cattle, other live stock, a large amount of farm machinery, household furniture, etc.
 For particulars see posted bills.

O. D. BOSWORTH, Williamstown, Vt.
 C. N. BARBER, Auctioneer.

CHELSEA.

Dr. F. H. Godfrey left Monday for Burlington to attend a meeting of the state medical board of examiners.

Attorney Stanley C. Wilson returned Monday morning from Montpelier, where he was called the last of the week on legal business.

Sheriff W. H. Sprague is able to be at his office again after having been confined to the house several days last week with a mild attack of appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Seaver and children of Washington were guests at A.
 L. Skinner's and H. O. Bixby's the first of the week.

Col. C. S. Emery, Dr. F. L. Beckwith and Frank Kennison are in camp in Washington near the Corinth line, where they are giving their attention to small game and getting the sights on their firearms in proper adjustment before the open season for deer arrives.

Frank Dickenson, who is attending school at the Methodist seminary at Montpelier, spent Saturday and Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Mary L. Dickenson.

Ray Ballou and Loren Goodrich, in company with Clarence Camp of East Randolph, left Monday for Stockton, Cal.

After a two weeks' recess, necessitated by an epidemic of measles, the high school, grammar and intermediate rooms opened Monday morning, but with a smaller attendance than usual, as many of the students are yet ill. Miss Bacon, who teaches the primary room and who has been a victim of the prevailing distemper, was not able to resume her work this week.

Dr. J. Euclid Fish of Melrose, Mass., came last week to join his family at Mrs. Ann E. Goss', and will remain for a short outing and rest.

Wilder H. Dearborn has commenced work in the feed department of the store of J. A. R. Corwin & Son, taking the place of "Amy" Patterson.

H. S. Fitts is raising and underpinning the ell at the Ira Hood house, which he recently purchased of his sister, Mrs.
 Ellen Hood Berry.

Calvin Goodwin has commenced moving from the farm he has lately sold into the Adams' place on Jail street, which he recently purchased.

Joseph H. Griffin and wife, who have been visiting friends for several weeks in Scitonsville and Sherbrooke, P. Q., returned Saturday evening.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Mrs. A. R. Martin is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. J. J.
 Kanaly, at Montpelier. Mr. Martin went to Boston on the excursion.

Vern Seavey is recovering from the mumps and is able to be out a little.

Mrs. O. W. Cram left yesterday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Averill, in Manchester, N. H.

Mr. Jackson, who was seriously injured Saturday by falling from the roof of the stone shed to the stone below, is about the same as he was Sunday. It is hoped his injuries will not prove as serious as was at first feared, although he is in a very bad condition.

H. S. Drury went to Winoski on business yesterday, returning today.

Mrs. W. M. Lawrence and daughter of Calais visited at H. S. Drury's over Sunday.

C. M. Edson left last night for Boston on business.

Mrs. Oliver Dickinson and Miss Bean spent last Saturday at Lucius Wright's in Brookfield. Mr. and Mrs. Asa Harrington of Barre called at Mrs. Dickenson's the same day.

Mrs. O. F. Seaver went to Chelsea, Sunday to spend a few days with friends there.

A gold watch was lost Sunday on the George F. Colby farm in Williamstown.
 The finder will be suitably rewarded by returning same to Clarence Cole, 90 North Main street, Barre, or to Times office.

The Beauty of the Hills.

Summer's beauty having become worn and faded, Nature has again put on a coat of new splendor. It was probably this habit of brightening up at the beginning of every season, on the part of Dame Nature, that suggested Fall house-cleaning to Mother Eve, and which her daughters have ever since kept up.

In modern homes the chief helpmeet in attaining the fine finish which every housewife desires as the result of her season's work is
